

 Graduate NYC!
College Readiness & Success

GRADUATE NYC!

Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Graduate NYC! Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Publicly Available Data

Data that have been reviewed and published for use by individuals, organizations, and institutions.

Graduate NYC! Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Publicly Available Data

Data Types and Uses

- Datasets
 - Perform analysis, create databases
- Reports
 - Analyze gaps in service, unmet needs, underserved populations
- Articles/studies/anecdotal information
 - Inform program practices

Graduate NYCI Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Publicly Available Data Sources

Source	Uses
SchoolBook	Compare schools; respond to questions on the site and elevate the conversation.
Inside Schools
Consortium on Chicago School Research	Professional reading; gap analysis.

Graduate NYCI Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Publicly Available Data Sources

Source	Uses
National Student Clearinghouse	Efficient way to track students post-secondary education.
Completion Arch	Answer research questions and produce charts and graphs based on indicators you select.
NYC Open Data	Review school level data on SAT average scores for all NYC public schools.

Graduate NYCI Academy for Leaders in the Field of College Transition

Publicly Available Data

Advantages	Challenges
Widely cited	Agenda of sources
Gap analysis	All information may not be applicable
Creation of resources	Web sites difficult to navigate

Things to Consider ...

- Rules of thumb
- Making comparisons
- How good are the data?
- What it should/should not be used for
- What organization is putting it out?
- How often are the data released?
